DR. FRAZIER'S ROOT BITTERS.

The above wonderful medicine is, as its name indicates, strictly a Bitters or Blood Cleanser, made from roots, combined with herbs and plants, such as are found in Nature's garden. I first used Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters myself for weakness of the lungs, catarrh and scrofula in the system, which broke out in pimples and blotches, and after doctoring with physicians and trying advertised medicines (including Sarsaparilla) without finding relief my discovery effected a complete cure. Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram shop whiskey beverage, but are strictly medical in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity. For dizziness, rush of blood to the head tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as ever I did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest of blessings. MRS. M. MARTIN, Cleveland, O.

IRELAND BECOMING MORE QUIET.

Archbishop McCabe on the Situation.

A REFLECTION OF THE OPINIONS OF THE POPE.

LONDON, June 21.

The World's London despatch says, "Advices from Dublin tonight say that quietness prevails throughout the country. The farmers have harvested the biggest hay crop for fifty years, and the root crops promise to be unprecedently abundant."

Archbishop McCabe's pastoral of Sunday, denouncing the league and sharply reminding the clergy that their mission is not to incite agrarian war, but to promote peace and concord, has thrown the leaguers into confusion. It is known, moreover, that Dr. McCabe is in this, as in many other instances, the direct mouthpiece of the Pope, and the pastoral will have great weight not only in the archdiocese of Dublin, but throughout Ireland. Dr. McCabe is in high favor at Rome and is likely to be one of the new cardinals. The leaguers say that Archbishop Croke will reply to this pastoral, but he has received a pretty strong hint from the Vatican that his course on the land question is deeply mortifying to the holy father, and that it will be well for him in future to confine himself strictly to the work of the Church. There is a great falling off in the number of outrages. Landlords have resolved not to execute writs of ejectment, except in cases where tenants absolutely deny the right of the landlord to collect rents. Many landlords who fled here during the "boycotting" period are returning home, and there are signs on every hand that the agitation has nearly burnt itself out.

Another Riot at Marseilles.

LONDON, June 21.—A telegram dated Marseilles, 10 o'clock Tuesday night, says: —"The French and Italian workmen commenced fighting again at 9 o'clock tonight. A serious struggle is now proceeding. Troops are going to the spot."

THE ALBANY LOBBY.

MADE UP OF INNOCENTS NOT ABROAD.

No Signs of a Compromise.

ALBANY, June 21.—Mr. Barber gave the Grand Jury a rich entertainment yesterday in his description of the operations of adventurers in the lobby, who sell a member's vote without the member knowing it. He said that the lobby was divided into classes, and that the society of one is as impenetrable to the other as that of Murray Hill is to the residents of the Five Points. He said that he was not in the business of selling members' votes nor engaged in buying votes for Senator or anything else. He was here devoting his time to heading off striking measures, protecting his street railroad interests, urging the passage of Reform tax bills, and favoring the Citizens' Street Cleaning bill, even to the section compelling street railroads, in which he is interested, to remove snow and ice from the streets occupied by them. He was likewise engaged in the laudable business of entertaining the first citizens of Albany and prominent gentlemen from other parts of the state in playing a gentleman's game at cards. As to buying votes and manipulating members he did not belong to that class of legislative nuisances. His bank account was innocent of all corrupt practices.

Mr. Phelps explained all about the $10,000 check that the investigating committee found with his and Barber's name on it; and testified as to the entire innocence of all the proceeds of that check as far as the Senator was concerned. The only man who swore that he had been employed in the lobby was Edwards. A Mr. Dixon was his employer on the Broadway Underground bill, and he tried hard to show that Dixon's check to him for $5,000 was for his own services, and that he did not divide any of it with the members. But the testimony of the bank cashier as to how the proceeds were drawn out gives another color to the affair. Thus far the lobbyists insist that they have not bribed anybody on the Senatorship or heard of anybody being bribed. They are an innocent set.

Conkling and Platt's arrival has set at rest the half-breed yarns that Mr. Conkling is ready for a compromise, while Mr. Wheeler's departure proves that he sees no chance for a compromise.

NATIONAL TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

Meeting in Saratoga. The Organization.

SARATOGA, June 21.—The National Temperance Convention met in the Episcopal Methodist Church at 10 A. M. James Black, of Lancaster, Pa., called the meeting to order and opened with prayer. Joshua L. Bailey of Pennsylvania was chosen chairman. John N. Stearns of New York, Mrs. C. B. Buell of Connecticut and C. L. Tumbling of Oberlin were appointed secretaries. Committees were appointed on credentials.

While the committees were absent the Rev. Dr. Homer Eaton of Saratoga made an address welcoming the convention to Saratoga. Mother Stewart, of Ohio, the celebrated temperance crusader, was appointed to respond for the convention.

While waiting for the committees John B. Gough spoke briefly. Mrs. Thompson, of Ohio, who led the first crusade there, spoke of the progress made since she attended with her father the first National Temperance Convention at Saratoga in 1833, at which seven men and herself only were present at the organization. Professor George E. Porter from New Brunswick, with George M. Rose and D. B. Chisholm, representing the Canada Temperance Alliance, were presented to the convention, and Professor Foster made a brief address, and the Canada delegation was annexed to the convention with full privileges. Secretary Stearns presented a resolution heretofore adopted by the general synods of the Reformed Church in favor of temperance.

The Committee on Permanent Convention reported in part the following officers: President, the Rev. Dr. A. J. Gordon, of Massachusetts; vice-presidents, J. L. Bailey, of Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Eliza J. Thompson, of Ohio; permanent secretaries, the temporary secretaries, adding Mrs. J. Douglass, of Pennsylvania.

THE ALBANY CONTEST.

The President Decides to Attend to his own Business.

A special to the Tribune from Long Branch says there is not the slightest truth in the report that the President's visit to Long Branch was for the purpose of meeting General Grant or consulting with friends of ex-Senator Conkling, or that it has in any other way a bearing on the contest now going on at Albany. His sole object was to establish Mrs. Garfield in a quiet and comfortable place, where she could have the best conditions for her restoration to health. The President has not interfered in any way in the contest now going on in the New York Legislature, and he will not do so. From his conversation it can be gathered easily that while he takes a deep interest in the progress of the struggle he considers it a matter which the Republicans of New York should themselves settle without any outside pressure or influence. All stories of the promise of appointments as rewards for supporting certain candidates for the New York Senatorships may be set down at once as reckless fabrications, devised by unscrupulous supporters of Mr. Conkling to cast discredit on their opponents.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT.

An almost incredible romance has happened in Wisconsin, and if it had not been vouched for by so reliable authority as the Racine Journal, it would be rejected altogether. The story, as the Journal tells it, is that "a resident of Racine named Johnson, who has roamed through this world for about thirty-five years, having never met the choice of his heart, was walking up Main street, when he was met by a buxom looking country girl and some friends. He was not acquainted with the girl, but introductions soon followed; she blushed and he was confused, and there was no getting around it, it was a case of love at first sight. They talked earnestly for about half an hour, the friends having departed. They soon parted with a kiss, she going north and he going south. In the course of two hours both made their appearance again on Main street, dressed up in fine style. They kissed again and she took his arm and they walked off, and at 2 o'clock were united in marriage. He made her acquaintance, popped the question and married her inside of three hours."

......William Herndon, Abraham Lincoln's former law partner, is now a pauper at Springfield, Ill., owing to intemperate habits.

......Herman Halsey, of the class of 1811, the oldest living graduate of Williams College, intends to be present at the coming commencement.

......Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence will return to America at the end of July, with a new play by Mr. J. R. Sims, author of "The member for Slocum."

......Paymaster-General Cutter, who is to retire in about a month, will probably be succeeded by Pay Director Looker, in whose behalf ex-President Hayes has actively interested himself.

......General Grant has telegraphed to President Potter that he will be unable to attend the Commencement exercises of Union College as he had intended, owing to the indisposition of Mrs. Grant.

......Mr. George I. Seney, of New York, has donated $20,000 to the Wesleyan Female College, making $70,000 given by him to the college within two months; $45,000 will be expended at once in the erection of a new college building.

......Mr. J. H. Wade tendered as a gift to the city of Cleveland, Ohio, a large tract of land on the eastern limits, valued at not less than $500,000, which he has for some years been converting into an exceedingly beautiful park. It will be known as Wade Park.

......Lord Lorne may possibly go to India as viceroy. The princess, it is said, wishes to see India, and is ready for the change. It is rumored in London that Sir John A. Macdonald is to be raised to the peerage and that he is to succeed Lord Lorne as Governor General of Canada.

......The bones of William Penn are to remain in their English grave. The Pall Mall Gazette says that no ground of equal appropriateness could be found in America for his bones to rest in—that he is in the company of those with whom he acted during public life and with whom he agreed in religious belief.

......Sarah Bernhardt, after playing for a fortnight at the Gaiety Theatre, London, will go with M. Meyer's company to Brighton and also through Scotland and Ireland. She will then make a grand tour through the whole of Europe except Prussia. She declares that on no consideration will she return to the Comedie Française.

......Rev. Herbert Pelham, son of the Bishop of Norwich, lost his life recently in Switzerland by a very singular accident. He was staying with his brother at Glion on the lake of Geneva, and in returning from an early walk they had to descend a steep and slippery grass slope. Mr. Pelham was behind his brother and is supposed to have stumbled, as he rushed close by where his brother was carefully picking his way, and disappeared over a cliff 240 feet high.

......At a recent auction sale of the double collection in Paris, Mrs. Mackey purchased the Buffon dinner service for $18,000, which is called a low price, for the service is complete and not one of the 103 pieces reveals a flaw. Buffon called this service the Sevres edition of his chapters on birds, alluding to the fact that he furnished the designs. The ground is pea green and the decoration is formed of medallions in which appear alternately single birds and the heads of illustrious men. At the same sale one of the Rothschilds purchased for $34,000 a pair of small vases adorned with the most delicate and exquisite paintings representing scenes in the battle of Fontenoy. They were ordered by Madame de Pompadour and decorated her mantlepiece at Versailles.

THE PRE-HISTORIC MOUNDS OF THE WEST.

The high bluffs and banks of the Mississippi river in this section are dotted with mounds symmetrically built, and ranging from three to six feet in height and from eight to sixteen feet in breadth at the base. Your correspondent has assisted me in exploring a dozen or more mounds in this neighborhood, and in almost every instance, a pit, parallelogram in shape, has been found, dug evidently about two and a half feet below the original surface of the ground, about six feet long and four feet wide, with the bottom and sides of hard baked clay. These pits are filled with human bones, representing all ages, buried in most cases in a sitting posture against the sides with legs extending to the center. Over these bones are found layers of anhydrous earth of dark color, hard from pressure, but which easily crumbled into fine powder. Above this is a stratum of hard-baked clay or cement, on the top of which is found a layer of ashes mingled with burnt shells and bones. In one mound unearthed on what is called the Portage, a short distance west of this city, were found bones indicating a race of gigantic stature. One skull was secured which measured 15 inches from the occipital to the frontal bone. The largest mound in the Portage group which was explored was found to be literally filled with bones, and 16 skulls, all in a good state of preservation, were removed from the mass. In every one was a deep indentation on the left side, a little above and behind the orifice of the ear, as though crushed in with a blunt instrument. Relics were found in the shape of copper bodkins, chisels and wedges, all finely wrought; axes, arrows and spear heads, made of a species of flint not found in this region; a singular and finely finished pear-shaped implement of stone, probably used for skinning animals; great numbers of the large teeth of some carnivorous animal, supposed to be the bear, in some instances with a piece of the jaw attached and carved; large pearls, some of exquisite luster, perforated to be strung, and a piece of pottery about 12 inches in height, urn shaped, round on the bottom and ornamented. On top of one of the most romantic bluffs in the upper Mississippi country, about eight miles from this city, overlooking what is called the Sand prairie, are no less than 100 mounds, uniform in size, and ranged in rows of from eight to ten. They are located near the edge of the bluff, and one large mound stands like a sentinel on the very point of the eminence. Behind this and about 20 feet away in a deep ditch, resembling somewhat the western sink-hole, yet scooped out, undoubtedly, by the same mysterious hands which reared the mounds adjacent. These mounds contained nothing but flat stones with bones underneath. In West Galena, on the Nikoi farm, are to be found lines of fortifications, built evidently for purposes of defense. The extend along the brow of a high elevation, skirting the north side of it completely. Behind these embankments or fortifications is a fine level country. A short distance to the rear and at the middle of the outer line of works is a mound in the shape of a horse, and at the northwest extremity of the same line, and about an equal distance behind it, is another mound in the shape of a reptile. The fortifications are about two feet in height, about eight feet wide at the base, and fully 30 feet long. One or two of them have been thoroughly explored, but nothing has been found, not even bones.—[Chicago Tribune.

ORIGIN OF ST. PETERSBURG.

It was in 1703 that Peter I. took it into his obstinate and capricious head to build the city of St. Petersburg, at the mouth of the Neva, upon the Gulf of Finland, on this desert and marshy spot of ground, which communicates but one way with the continent. Petersburg was founded on Whitsunday, the 27th of May. Karamsin says the ruins of some of the bastions at Nienchantz, which the Russians had just captured, supplied the first stones. The first building was a small fort on Vassili Ostrof. Peter would not listen to the complaints from his other provinces with respect to the remoteness of the situation which he had chosen for a capital. His nobles urged their objections to the barren and swampy soil, to the inclement climate, where winter reigned for eight months of the year, and to the disadvantages of the port. "Peter," as Karamsin further says, "set at nought all these serious inconveniences, nor did he take any heed of the freshness of the water, which decayed his ships, or of the solitary tree on which was marked the height of the great inundation of 1680, and which he cut down with his own hand. That irksome witness clearly showed that a storm of some hours' duration from the west, by driving back the waters of the Neva, would be sure to engulf the new city, which was built upon piles in a bottomless marsh."

It is said that Peter was a great admirer of the cities of Holland, where he had stayed some time, and this may have accounted for his selection of this dismal site for his new capital. Anyway the city was built, with great sacrifice of life on the part of the workmen, became rich and splendid, and finally presented the aspect which De Custine so admirably describes.

Bicycling has become the fashionable pursuit of the young men in England, and as the ladies never fail to follow in the wake of fashion when set by their admirers, the tricycle has been adopted by them with the greatest eagerness. At first it was considered "rather fast," and looked upon with shyness, but ever since the newspaper account of the ride taken by her majesty and the Princess Beatrice, each royal lady mounted on her iron horse and careering gayly on the high road and through the green lanes round Osborne, all scruple has vanished. It is urged that no danger can exist, as the Queen, who is a heavy, fat old lady, was enabled to sit her steed with as much ease and confidence as when in former days she used to prance so proudly on her high-mettled horse before the troops at review. And so professors of the bicycle and tricycle abound in London, and the racing and chasing along the suburban roads at twilight, and the laughing and chatting as the iron coursers shoot by, give quite a new aspect to the solitary walks around London.

Mothers who understand the picturesque get rid of all primness in their children's dresses, and instead of fashionable models, rely upon the artistic, copying Kate Greenway's pictures for their frocks, and bending the brims of their shepherdess hats until they flop about their ears, or poke over their foreheads, or surround their foreheads like a halo, trimming with groups of feathers arranged in studied confusion. For cool mornings their corduroette dresses are made up in pleated princess fashion, and worn with deep Charles Stuart collars of white embroidered muslin. A pretty study in brown is a brown-eyed, fair haired girl of six in seal brown corduroy with a panama hat faced with brown velvet and trimmed with an ostrich plume; and a tiny brunette of four years, as round as a roly-poly, wears a Mother Hubbard cloak of claret colored cloth and a claret rough straw poke bonnet with short nodding tips upon it. One of the prettiest features of wedding processions this spring is two demure little girls six or eight years old, dressed in old English costumes, who follow the bridesmaids and precede the bride, carrying bouquets almost as large as themselves. They wear white mull dresses with short waists and shirred shoulders, wide sash ribbons beginning just below the arms, and large flapping brim hats of straw trimmed with white feathers; their gloves are long lace mitts, and a great deal of Valeienues lace may be used in the dresses, but batiste embroideries are preferred.—[Harper's Bazar.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS AND THE NEWPORT JOURNAL.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon (Sundays excepted), at the News building, 137 Thames street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, and a complete and comprehensive summary of news,—local and general. The Journal is a large 36 column paper and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from the city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the whole year is paid strictly in advance. These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines, or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the Daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty-five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

The New York Evening Telegram says:—"The season began well at Newport. This city by the sea is not affected by wind or weather so far as fashionable attendance is concerned. Those who summer at Newport do so whether the dog days are oppressively hot or delightfully cool."

The governors of the Casino will give two receptions, one on Saturday of this week, the other on July 16th, to the citizens and visitors here. The club rooms, which are very complete and beautiful, will be thrown open for inspection. Cards of invitation are to be had without expense by calling on the secretary of the club at the Casino.

Passed Assistant Paymaster Frank Plunkett, two years ago, when on the Passaic at New York, fell short in his accounts. The deficiency was made good and no further mention was made of it. In December, 1879, he was promoted to his present grade, but omitted to file the required bond of $15,000 and has persistently refused to do so. It was proposed to stop his pay. That being illegal, a court-martial was decided upon. Commodore Carter will be president and Captain Tilton Judge-advocate of the court.

By intelligence received from the Warner Observatory, Rochester, N. Y., it appears that still another comet has just been discovered by Dr. Gould, Director of the Cordover Observatory, Argentine Republic, South America. This comet seems to be the great comet of 1807, and is located in the Constellation of the Dove, Right Ascension 6 hours and Declination South 30 degrees. It is not visible from this latitude and not known yet that it will be, although it is likely to be as the comet of 1807 was distinctly seen. No apprehension need be had over the unusual appearance of comets during the present year as they do not possess the power to work injury upon the earth or on any other planet.

Blackguard journalism appears to be coming to grief in Providence, which has been afflicted by its presence beyond most cities. A certain class of papers, most of which were issued on Sundays, have sought a basis of circulation by pandering to the lowest passions of the mob, and by indulging in open attacks upon respectable people who had won the displeasure of editors and publishers. Of course these papers were highly sensational and grossly immoral. They went on swimmingly for a while but the managers have found that it is not a pleasant method of earning a livelihood. Two editors and one publisher are now in jail, each learning a trade, one or two more have run away to avoid the officers of the law, and the whole crowd are in mortal fear of what may follow. They have learned that they must respect the rights of their fellow citizens or take the consequences. Among all classes who are acquainted with the facts there is a feeling of relief that this gang is broken up. The conductors of respectable newspapers will, of course, be pleased at the vindication of their profession.

OUR CITY GOVERNMENT.

The proceedings of the City Council last evening will be read with interest. They show that the taxpayers must prepare for higher rates in the future, but, probably, none too high for the good of the city. The blessings of civilization and refinement cannot be had without cost. Taxes are always low among savages and they always increase with the upward and advancing tendencies of society. Where the money is honestly and judiciously applied, as in this case, the community grows richer and not poorer by a liberal provision for improvements and comforts. Taxes constitute the seed sown from which the harvest is to be gathered. We do not see how the City Council could do less than they have, in view of the demands of the hour. The items which call for the most increase have been already voted upon and approved by the people.

The Board of Aldermen showed a disposition to call a halt in the matter of liquor licenses and it is well that they should do so. Newport must preserve a good name as a quiet and safe home for its citizens and for those coming from abroad, or her pre-eminence will be lost. As was stated by ex-Governor Van Zandt, even Touro Park and a portion of Bellevue avenue are now fast becoming notorious places of bad repute. The uprising of decent people against the continuance of the practice that so mars this beautiful portion of the town is significant. Many, indeed most of these remonstrants, are not prohibitionists in the ordinary sense of the term. But they are good citizens and are unwilling to see blasting and mildew brought upon the fairest spots of our city. They have spoken in unmistakable terms and the Aldermen can scarcely do otherwise than regard their request.

The new Council shows a commendable disposition to care well for the general interest of the city. The members enter upon their duties with an evident desire to do the work assigned them in the best possible manner. They will find their reward in placing themselves in full accord with the spirit of the present age rather than in seeking to perpetuate the prejudices of past generations. In the effort to make Newport the first city of the land in its attractiveness and in its comforts much will depend on their action. What has answered for the past will not suffice for the future. Newport is no longer the sleepy old town by the sea, such as she was for many years while decreasing in population and wealth, but is an active growing city and should be alive to the spirit of progress in every department. A glorious future is before her if she will improve her opportunities and we believe that it is the purpose of all her best citizens to do so.

THE LOCATION OF THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

The New London Telegram mourns as one without hope. We extend our hearty sympathy in this hour of affliction and trust that the sluggish town on the banks of the sluggish Thames may yet awake to a new and higher life. Under the heading "Danced into Favor" the Telegram gets off the following:—

> Formal possession of Coasters' Harbor Island was taken by Commander Luce, Thursday, on behalf of the Government. In all probability this indicates a final abandonment of the navy yard on the Thames as a permanent station for the training squadron, and the consequent waste of thousands of dollars which have been expended for its improvement. The report of the special commission which was appointed to compare the advantages of the several sites was notoriously unjust to New London, and its inconsistency with the findings of former commissions was pointed out to the Department of the Navy. The Board was made up of officers who were prejudiced against the Thames site, and who were certain to report in favor of Newport. In the prosecution of the examination farce they spent a few hours in New London harbor—on board the Powhatan—and then steamed away to Newport, where they spent days in enjoying the generous hospitality extended to them, and then sent in their distorted statement, called by courtesy a report. The deep channel of the Thames was declared unnavigable, and the spacious harbor of New London, never closed within the memory of man, was represented as being annually frozen over. The events which immediately followed the report proved its falsity. New London harbor alone of all the harbors on the southern New England coast was absolutely free from obstruction, while gangs of men in Newport harbor had to cut channels through the ice to admit the passage of vessels to the wharves, and coasters lying in the harbor were ice-bound for days at a time. At the Thames station vessels of the largest draught can lie alongside the government wharf without so much as approaching the bottom, while at Coasters Harbor Island a like condition can only be secured by extensive dredging, and the anchorage in the outer harbor is so unsafe that several times during the past winter the Minnesota was in imminent danger of being run down by passing vessels. At New London thousands of dollars have been expended in putting the ground in perfect condition, and in erecting suitable buildings, while at Newport the expenditure is all to come. The selection of Coasters Harbor Island, in view of all the circumstances, is a flagrant violation of all principles of economy and expediency for the sake of a few "Cobburghers" of the navy, who prefer the young ladies of Rhode Island capital to their New London rivals as partners in the german.

SMOKE AND THE CADETS.

West Point cadets were exasperated recently by an order prohibiting tobacco smoking at the military academy. Cadets at the naval academy are now in consternation at the prospect of an order from the Secretary of the Navy similar to that which Secretary Lincoln recently issued against smoking at West Point. The medical officers of the naval academy and the academic board urge in the strongest terms that permission to smoke be revoked, three years of smoking by the cadets having proved "injurious to their health, discipline and power of study." It will be seen, therefore, that the order against smoking at West Point was not the product of Puritanic prejudices on the part of Gen. Howard, but of consequences which have been quite as perceptible among the naval as among the military cadets. The prohibition of smoking at the two national academies should produce a profound impression upon the whole country. Tobacco smoke is poisoning the blood and ruining the health of American boys. In some foreign countries smoking is prohibited until a certain age. Prudent parents will do what they can to discourage smoking by boys yet in their teens.

Sergeant Hall was rewarded by one of the officers, he very reluctantly taking the money.

PROSPECT PARK, BROOKLYN.

Some may think one deficient in taste to prefer Prospect Park, Brooklyn, to Central in New York. But while there are not so many shows, or so much artificial beauty, its natural wildness and freedom from restrictions are very attractive. The common is so beautiful, so is the lake, and one can consume a day or most of it there, very pleasantly. In extent it is about two miles and a half from north to south between 15th street, which lies toward Greenwood and Franklin avenue toward Brooklyn city and a mile and a half from Vanderbilt avenue on the west, to Flatbush avenue on the east. There are some nine or ten entrances. Let us enter by Franklin avenue and wind round toward the pleasantest part, viz.:—the flower-garden and lake, or skating pond of the winter. Drivers complain that there are so few shows or objects to point out to visitors. A small monument to Irving and one on the brow of a hill to John Payne, artist, dramatist and journalist, erected by Faust club, Brooklyn, being all I noticed. The row boats for twenty-five cents an hour look very enticing as one sits by the lake. The driver pointed out a Quaker cemetery, which he said was within the park's limits, but owned by them and could not be purchased. We passed near Franklin avenue a deer enclosure the animals being most frequently visible in the morning. Not far from the Third street entrance on Vanderbilt avenue is a restaurant where lunches can be obtained and from which the view of the lawn and little hillocks in front is very attractive. For children the favorite place is the Carousal, where for five cents, a ride upon wooden horses can be obtained and live ponies a little farther off at an advanced sum. From the brow of a hill directly in front of the lake, and quite a climb, one obtains something of a prospect, Coney Island being within sight.

Among the woods, peacocks with spreading tails, and other poultry enliven the scene. The Archery grounds are owned by a club, and enclosed within railings, and lie toward the west side. Not far from them is a so-called squirrel house minus the squirrels. The common and shrubs about the lawns are looking beautifully at this time. There is not very much shade, because the trees as yet are not in full foliage, and the sudden heat of the 11th and 12th of May struck one as very premature when even the trees were in scanty spring clothing and not a summer garment as yet unpacked. The magnolias and other shrubs seemed to give a sudden jump from bud to full bloom like a hot house force. For those who like crowds of tired or not over clean people, July and August (when those who cannot go into the country rush to these oases for a little relief,) would afford more entertainment. But lovers of nature could not see this bit of landscape scenery to better advantage than May affords, violets, anemonies and all the wild flowers are in full glow, but picking them is strictly forbidden. Every now and then one comes upon a stroller with the contraband bunch, exclaiming, "After we had gathered these we were told it is against the law." BUSY BEE.

Mr. John McCarty, formerly of McCarty & Biesel, is established on Market square where he will conduct the general harness business, making a specialty of trunks and travelling bags.

Talmage said recently:—"Bribery begins in the money subscribed for election expenses. By the time that our great gubernatorial, congressional and presidential elections are over the land is drunk with bribery. I pity that little orphan $2000 wandering about the streets of Albany and finding no parentage. It strayed off from the family of big brothers, who ought to take care of the foundling laid at the legislator's door."

Gen. Longstreet and Gen. Johnson have both been interviewed at length on Jefferson Davis's history of the war. They differ as to the possibility of following up the Federal defeat after Bull Run, Longstreet thinking it might have been done, and Johnson insisting that an advance was out of the question with the demoralized troops. The two agree in thinking that the real turning-point of the war was in northern Georgia. An advance after Chickamauga, Gen. Longstreet thinks, might have changed the fortunes of the war, and Gen. Johnston feels sure that, if he had been left in command at Atlanta, he would have held the position indefinitely against Gen. Sherman.

It is interesting to recollect that during our civil war, in order to fix responsibility, Secretary Stanton required that every letter from the front should be signed with the writer's name. The effect of this order was to develop a number of clever writers, who achieved a distinction of their own, quite apart from the journals they served. Among these were Whitelaw Reid of the Cincinnati Gazette, Thomas W. Knox of the Herald, George Alfred Townsend, Jerome B. Stillson and Richard Coleman of the World, E. C. Stedman, Junius Henri Brown of the Tribune, and others equally notable. These gentlemen would, probably, never have been heard of, had it not been for the order of the War Department requiring signatures to letters from the seat of war. Undoubtedly the anonymous system is advantageous to the owners of newspapers, but the history of the French, English and American press during war times shows that when the correspondent writes over his own name he does better and more reliable work.—[The Hour.

The most successful of our artists at present seem to be those engaged in the work of decoration and kindred arts. The most successful in this line probably is Mr. John La Farge. Besides painting and decoration, Mr. La Farge has an immense stained glass business. He has some patent in the manufacture of this glass, and will, I hope, make a fortune out of it for it is extraordinarily beautiful. Some of his windows look as though they were made of jewels, the colors are so delicate, and the designs as like jewelled boxes or mediaeval book covers. Mr. La Farge is so busy that he cannot fill all his orders, and nearly all the work is for private houses. I wish that I were at liberty to describe some work that he is doing now for a well-known millionaire. The gentleman in question has been wise enough to give the artist carte blanche. Mr. La Farge has just taken a floor in the new building owned by Arnold & Constable on Union Square, next to the Everett House. Mr. Louis Tiffany is quite as busy as Mr. La Farge. Both artists have a number of young painters working under their direction. The decorative craze has resulted in a great deal of good to the artistic world, and opened the purse strings of millionaires in a new direction. [Cor. Boston Gazette.

Several paragraphs have lately appeared in which the most satisfactory accounts have been given of the health and spirits of the Empress of Russia. As a matter of fact, I am enabled to state that the Czarina's health causes the greatest anxiety both to her parents and to the Princess of Wales. Her nervous system has been pretty well shattered by the horrors of the last two months, and the vivid apprehensions to which the imperial family are perpetually the prey.—[London Truth.

An ordinance in amendment of the hack ordinance was passed. The new ordinance provides for a superintendent of hacks who will have charge of granting hack licenses, receiving fees for the same, and designate places as hack stands where hacks may wait and standing not less than 200 feet apart and not more than three in one stand, the superintendent to be a member of the police force and to receive in addition to his pay as policeman $100 a year. A petition was received from the abutters asking that the cobble stones be taken from Thames street between Marlboro and Bridge streets and asphalt blocks laid. Referred to Committee on Streets and Highways.

Petition of E. D. Boit, for permission to place crosswalks on Beach street near his estate was granted.

The committee appointed to confer with the banks reported that the R. I. Union and Aquidneck offered to receive the city's deposits free of expense; the Merchants Bank offered the city $157. The City Treasurer was instructed to deposit in the Merchants Bank.

Petition of Walter Sherman for permission to erect a building 10 by 12 feet for his horse and wagon on marsh at beach was referred to Committee on City Property.

The Committee on Fire Department were authorized to procure prices for suitable lot for the erection of an engine house and ward room in the Third Ward and to report at next meeting of the council. The report of the Street Commissioner was received.

The report of the committee on the Freebody land was received. It provides for the lease of the land by the Overseers of the Poor for a term of seven years with the right to renew for seven years longer; the number of renewals not to be over four. The rent is to be fixed at the end of every term of seven years by three arbitrators, the overseers to have power to divide the land and lay out ways; the amount of the rent not to be less than 5 per cent. of the valuation at ten cents per square foot.

The Committee on Fire Department were instructed to report some place for a hose station as the portion of the police station now used for that purpose was needed for police use.

A petition was received from Wolcott Gibbs offering deed of the new way from Rhode Island avenue to Gibbs avenue to the city.

The Committee on Fire Department recommended that the firemen be elected to serve until discharged, instead of for one year as at present.

In joint convention the following special policemen were elected: Samuel M. Rose, William J. Clarke, Michael F. Shea, 2d, Perry B. Dawley, Charles R. Curtis, Joseph C. Sutherland, Jos. T. Card, Samuel Grolfe and John Rogers.

In Board of Aldermen L. F. Attleton was granted license for Hotel Aquidneck and Wm. B. Hathaway for United States Hotel. F. N. Barlow & Sons were granted a junk license. The petitions of George H. Hollinger, G. Ambrose Murray and J. and F. Atwater, for liquor licenses, were laid on the table. Martin Mulligan was granted a hack driver's license. John Murray was granted leave to withdraw petition for liquor license, also his petition for a tavern license. John Malgan was granted a tavern license for Clarendon Hotel, and J. G. Weaver & Son one for the Ocean House. T. B. Wilkinson and John Burkinshaw were granted licenses for pool tables. Petitions of T. B. Wilkinson, Samuel Pollitt and William Murphy for tavern licenses were laid on the table. Whittaker & Blewitt were given leave to withdraw their petition for a liquor license. When this application came up Governor Van Zandt presented a petition signed by many of the summer residents and citizens, asking the board not to grant any liquor licenses on Bellevue avenue between Pelham street and Bath road. It was stated that the signers of this petition paid taxes on property valued at over $6,000,000, or one fourth of the entire valuation of Newport. Among the signers were Gov. C. C. Van Zandt, Dr. David King, George Peabody Wetmore, J. N. A. Griswold, and nearly every resident of Kay street, that part of Bellevue avenue near Bath road and Narragansett avenue. In presenting the petition Gov. Van Zandt said that he felt it his duty as a citizen to protest against the almost unrestricted sale of liquor in the vicinity of Bellevue avenue. It was impossible not only for ladies but even for men to pass there at night without being insulted by the loafers and drunken men. A well known summer resident had stated that it was impossible for any member of his family to pass there at any time without some annoyance. A lady had called at his house Sunday, who in passing through Bellevue avenue had been insulted by some men coming out of one of these shops. This was an evil that would grow and if something was not done to prevent it Newport would soon cease to be a desirable place of residence. It remained with the Aldermen to say whether this evil was to be checked now or to increase still more. He held that if a good license law, like the present, were properly enforced there would be no demand for a prohibitory law. The Aldermen should grant licenses to none but parties whom they would trust in their own business. The liquor business was driving all other business from that portion of Bellevue avenue. Touro Park was becoming unfit for nurses and children in the daytime even. The residences on Bellevue avenue from the Redwood Library to Bath road had greatly depreciated in value lately. He was sure no member of the Board would care to live within 200 feet of that portion of the avenue and they should respect those who did live there. Alderman Smith who was in that neighborhood knew about it and was opposed to granting licenses. The situation of the place was such that it was necessary to pass through this portion of the avenue to reach the business part of the city.

The petition will apply to all applications for licenses on Bellevue avenue. The petitioners were then, on motion of Alderman Langley, given leave to withdraw. The subject will be brought up again at the next meeting of the council when the applications for the next year will be considered. Captain Hammond presented a list of 32 unlicensed places where liquor was sold; the list was handed to the City Marshal.

A COUNTESS CIRCUS RIDER.

One of the prettiest of the écuyeres or lady riders at the Hippodrome has met with a tragic end. Her name was put on the bills as Mademoiselle Fanny Gyika. Some said that the coronet of countess embroidered on her saddle and trappings really belonged to her, while others declared that they had been assumed with the same readiness as that which transformed the commonplace Sally Scroggins into Ada de Montmorency for stage purposes. Death has torn aside the veil, and the unfortunate lady, who died on Tuesday, and was buried yesterday, was not only a real countess, but the wife of a very wealthy gentleman holding an important appointment at Bucharest. He was present at the funeral, and he took greatly to heart the death of the lady, who was only 24 and at the very zenith of her beauty when she met with the accident which ended fatally. Hers was one of those wild and roving dispositions, more suited to the gypsy camp than to domestic duties. She left her husband, and wandered from circus to circus, refusing every offer to return home. At last she came to Paris and made an engagement with M. Ziffler, of the hippodrome. Just a week ago she made her last appearance before the public. She was riding her favorite charger, Sultan, and, after putting him through his paces, she galloped around the arena to receive the applause of the audience. Somehow the horse backed or shied at a handkerchief and unseated his rider, whose foot got fast in the stirrup. She was dragged some distance, and when taken up had to be conveyed to the hospital with a compound fracture of the ankle. She was told that she must lose her leg, but she refused to undergo the operation, preferring death, which supervened through mortification of the injured limb within a few days.—[London Globe.

AN ÆOLIAN HARP.

An elaborate aeolian harp is in process of construction by a Rochester (N. Y.) gentleman. It is to be placed on a tower at his country estate. The sounding-board is to be made of Norway pine, seven feet high, and the back of hard curled maple of forty-five years cut. These woods are all imported, the slow growth of European woods giving them a texture better adapted to musical instruments than the home products. As a whole, the instrument is to be tube-shaped, with eight slots in the tube. The latter is to be surmounted with a lightning rod eight feet high, with a weather cock attached. With every turn of the weather cock a slot is presented to the wind, and a string is made to vibrate. The first string that vibrates in this manner gives the fundamental note, while the other will sound a third, and give the acute octave to the first. Professor Dennebeeg, the gentleman who is constructing it, has no doubts as to the success of his instrument, and thinks when completed and placed on the tower, it can be heard on still nights for a distance of three miles up the river. He made a similar instrument for the Sorbonne in Paris, which, however, is not automatic, but must be arranged by the janitor before it will work.

A Modern Miracle

THE MOST MARVELOUS EXPERIENCE OF ONE OF BOSTON'S LEADING CITIZENS.

How it Occurred.—His Description of the Circumstances and the Overwhelming Testimony of Prominent Witnesses.

[Boston Globe, Dec. 8th.]

The readers of this paper were more or less amazed at a most remarkable statement from one of our leading citizens which appeared in yesterday's issue. So unusual were the circumstances connected with it, and so much comment did it occasion on the street and in social circles, that a representative of this paper was commissioned to investigate its details and verify its facts. The article referred to was a statement made by Mr. B. F. Larrabee, of the New York and Boston Dispatch Express Company, that after having him at the point of death for more than three weeks, given up by both physicians and friends, he had completely and wonderfully regained his usual health. Mr. Larrabee was found in his private office on Arch street, and upon being questioned said:

"Well, sir, logically, I have been dead, but really, I am as you see me. A little over a year ago, I was taken sick, but I allowed the illness to run along until on the 28th day of October, 1879, I fell prostrate while walking along Tremont street. I was carried home and did not go out of the house until the middle of December. I then went down town and attempted to attend to my business until the 13th of last January, when I was taken with a very severe relapse. My symptoms were terrible. I was fearfully bloated; I suffered severe pains in all parts of the body and it was almost impossible to get my breath. For six days I never laid down and never slept. I was constantly attended by my regular physician, Doctor Johnson, and Doctor Bowditch also came to see me nearly every day. There was no doubt that I was suffering from Bright's disease of the Kidneys in its worst form and last stages, accompanied by other troubles in my liver and heart. In spite, however, of the skill of the physicians, I kept growing worse and finally they tapped my side in the vicinity of the heart, taking away forty-six ounces of water. This relieved me for the time, but I soon became as bad as before. Then the doctors gave me up entirely, declared I could not live more than twenty-four hours and my daughter, who was residing in Paris, was telegraphed for. Still I lingered along for several weeks, far more dead than alive, but never giving up hope. One night—it was on the 20th of April, I very well remember—my attendant, who was reading the paper to me, began an article which described my disease and sufferings exactly. It told how some severe cases of Bright's disease had been cured, and so clearly and sensibly did it state the case that I determined to try the means of cure which it described. So I sent my man to the drug store, procured a bottle of the medicine, unknown to my physicians and friends, and took the first dose at 10 o'clock. At that time I was suffering intensely. I could not sleep; I had the short breaths and could scarcely get any air into my lungs. I was terribly bloated from head to foot, and the motion of my heart was irregular and painful. The next morning I was able to breathe freely; the pain began to leave me and the bloating decreased. I continued to take the medicine, and today, sir, I am as well as I ever was in my life, and wholly owing to the wonderful, almost miraculous power of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. I do not know what this medicine is made of, or anything else about it, but I know it saved my life when I was given up by the doctors and had really been dead for weeks; that it has kept me in perfect health ever since and has cured many of my friends to whom I have recommended it. There are a number of very remarkable cases in Lynn and Salem, as well as in this city, that it has cured. My recovery is so remarkable that it has excited much attention, and physicians as well as others have investigated it thoroughly. I am glad they have, for I feel that the results of such a wonderful cure should be known to the thousands in all parts of the land who are suffering from troubles of the kidneys, liver, or heart in some of their many dangerous forms."

The representative of the press thanked Mr. Larrabee for his frank and clear statement, and was about to leave the office when a gentleman stepped up to him and inquired if he was seeking information about Mr. Larrabee's sickness and recovery. The scribe replied that he was, whereupon the gentleman said:

"And so am I, and I have come all the way from Chicago for that very purpose. Kidney troubles seem to be alarmingly increasing all over the country, and I have a very near relative who is afflicted much as Mr. Larrabee was. I have been to see the physicians of whom Mr. Larrabee speaks, and I tell you, sir, it is simply wonderful."

"What did they say?" asked the man of news.

"Say! why, sir, they fully confirm everything Mr. Larrabee has stated. I went to see Dr. D. A. Johnson, at 31 Worcester street. He was absent when I called and so I stepped into the Commonwealth Hotel where Mr. Larrabee was living at the time of his sickness. Messrs. Brugh & Carter are the proprietors, and I asked them about Mr. Larrabee's case. Mr. Brugh pointed to me the electric annunciator and said, 'why for weeks and weeks every time that bell rang I said: That means the death of Mr. Larrabee. No one around the hotel ever dreamed that he would recover and when the doctors would come down from his room they would shake their heads and say there was no hope. The arrangements for the funeral were all made and his recovery was simply a miracle.'"

I then called on Dr. Johnson who said that Mr. Larrabee's case was a very remarkable one. He was his family physician and expected his death every hour for a number of weeks and never called to see him during that time, but he was prepared for it. The doctor said the recovery was due to Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and if he had friends, male or female, troubled with albumen or any kidney troubles he should certainly advise them to use this remedy. Dr. Johnson said kidney difficulties are more common than most people think and that many symptoms which are supposed to be other diseases arise from the kidneys. He said that ladies after gestation are specially subject to albuminous troubles which require prompt attention.

Well, I then came down and called on Dr. H. Ingersoll Bowditch on Boylston street. The old doctor was inclined to be reticent but fully confirmed all I had previously learned. He had attended Mr. Larrabee, had supposed him to be beyond all hope, and was afterwards restored, as he said, by Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

I next went to see Dr. Melville E. Webb, at the Hotel Cluny, for you see I was determined to be thorough in the matter. I found Dr. Webb a most clear-headed and well-informed gentleman, and he said:

"I know of Mr. Larrabee's case from having thoroughly investigated it as medical director of a Life Insurance company, and it is one of the most remarkable cases I have ever met. Mr. Larrabee had all the manifestations of a complication of diseases, and in their worst forms. He had albumen and cast in the urine, and a terribly diseased liver and spleen. Indeed, he was so bad that he threw himself upon the floor, and, with his head upon a hassock, struggled for breath. It was on the night when he was so bad and when all his medical advisors had long given him up that he began using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. The next morning at 10 o'clock he was able to breathe freely, and has been ever since. I subjected him to the most thorough examination possible, after his recovery, and I can't find out about him. His kidneys, liver, lungs and heart are perfectly well and sound. I can only add that, from what I have seen, I should unhesitatingly recommend this remedy."

The conclusion from the statement above made, which come to the newspaper man as well as to the general public, must be twofold. First, that a modern miracle of healing has been performed in our midst, and that, too, by the simplest means and one which is within the reach of every one; and secondly, that testimonials of such high character and so out-spoken in tone conclusively prove the value of the remedy and its superior nature to the proprietary articles with which the public have been flooded. "The greater includes the less," and the remedy which has been proven so valuable and has saved a life after it was brought down to death's door, must unquestionably be certain in all minor troubles, which are so disastrous unless taken in time.

Newport Line!

SPECIAL NOTICE!

ON MONDAY, JUNE 20, THE STEAMERS

commanded by careful and experienced officers, will commence their trips for the summer season, between New York and Newport. These vessels have undergone a thorough overhauling, and extensive repairs and improvements have been made, greatly increasing their attractions. New carpets have been laid in the saloons. The ventilation of the dining saloon, by mechanical means, rendering the air at all times pure and the room agreeable, is an improvement that will, no doubt, be very much appreciated. Bulkheads have been placed on the Main Deck aft, making that part of the vessel a pleasant resort for smokers. It is the determination of the management to make this a STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS LINE, and nothing will be spared which will add to the comfort and convenience of patrons. It will be run for the accommodation of travel to and from the summer resorts and important points local to the Old Colony Railroad—there will be no Boston connection—and is especially designed for the better accommodation of the Newport travel. Double the number of state-rooms, heretofore assigned to that city, have been allotted for the present season.

From NEWPORT, Steamers will leave daily (Sundays excepted), at 8.00 P. M., sharp, and arrive at New York about 6.00 A. M., making sure connections with all lines diverging. It is believed that the certainty of leaving Newport at a fixed hour, by this Line, will be appreciated.

From NEW YORK, Steamers will leave daily (Sundays excepted), at 6.00 P. M., and arrive at Newport about 5.00 A. M. No going will be rung, and passengers may rest undisturbed until 7.00 A. M.
